three poems for xmas

maybe when i go to bed today by myself i will think about getting a hallmark miracle when i wake up in the morning first i will be bleary and then i will be a little more awake and with my pajamas on i will walk out of my bedroom on bare feet slow and then fast until i run into the kitchen and there will be a big surprise there like a big tree in my kitchen and santa smiling or like a huge present in the hallway the card will say SURPRISE THE WORLD LOVES YOU i will have my mouth open like a little child and like turn around and there is 'everyone' like some of my facebook friends + some people that babysat me when i was young + the grocery cashier stuff like that probably that won't happen after 3 peppermint cocktails that i made in my kitchen by myself i got this really good idea, like should i get some 'sleigh bells' and put on a coat and go jingle them in the hall should i run up the stairs in the apt building jingling the sleigh bells then should i run down the sidewalk jingling them like really loud at times and more quietly at other times feel like kids would hear them and be like 'santa'

maybe in like 20 more years their kid would be like 'is santa real' and it would be yknow about time to tell him and they would just sort of think about the time they heard sleigh bells when they were a kid and instead of being like 'no' they'd be like 'i don't know' dunno if that would be nice or mean of me i never watched this 'christmas story' movie (jews dont watch christmas movies we go to chinese food) my wikipedia was open to 'assia wevill' but i typed in 'truman' to wikipedia and got 'truman (film)' then i fucking thought a LOT i typed in 'the big lebowski' this was all because i was trying to remember the name of 'philip seymour hoffman' and 'the big lebowski' was the only other thing i could remember when i was looking for 'truman' i meant 'capote' this was all because i wanted to say that this kid in the 'wonderful life' movie looks like he grew up to be truman (philip seymour hoffman)

Laurie Piña - i barely saw the christmas story movie last year. the only christmas movies i was ever keen on growing up were those stop motion rudolph ones. and like it's a charlie brown christmas. Dec 25, 2010
